

Scenario:

You are a busy person who works out daily and finds it difficult to keep yourself hydrated. You decide to download an app to remind you to drink more.

Task 1: fill out how much water you have drunk today and how much more you need to drink.

Task 2: fill out some personal information such as age, height, etc.

Task 3: Set a timer to remind you every x amount of minutes to drink.

What should be changed?

The app could use more features. Information about how to tell if you aren't hydrated should be listed.

What is good about this app?

The water droplet on the home screen looks nice. The settings page is well made
